General Exhibit Policies:

- To aid in keeping the exhibit as intact as possible, any artwork that sells should remain for the duration of the show.
- Security is one of our highest priorities and we take great caution in locking our business during non-business hours. However, The Artful Lawyer cannot be held liable for theft or damage to artwork accepted for display and does not carry insurance on artwork. We encourage all of our artists to personally insure their artwork.
- We have a rail-hanging system in our Gallery equipped with nylon straps and adjustable hooks that can hold up to 40 pounds. Should you exhibit with us, we provide labels for artwork and hang your work, but you need to ensure that your work is ready to hang before you leave it with us. The Gallery will not display poorly framed, matted or wired artwork. All framed work must be done with a focus on quality presentation. The Gallery reserves the right to use photos or videos of the artworks for promotional use of the Gallery.
